

DON'T GET CARRIED AWAY...

KNOW THE DANGERS OF MIXING ALCOHOL AND COCAINE.

FACTS

If alcohol is used along with cocaine, it puts an added strain on the body. Your liver is put under stress, this can lead to liver failure.

Side effects include increased aggressive behaviour which could get you into trouble or put you in vulnerable situations.

Anyone caught possessing cocaine could get up to seven years in prison, while selling it, even to your friends, could result in a life sentence and unlimited fine.

For more information on the risks of mixing alcohol and cocaine:

Tel: 01709 364 804

or visit: www.drinkaware.co.uk

